Boulder Restaurant Channel and Search Engine Announces Online Database of Boulder Colorado Restaurants

Boulder Restaurant Channel and Search Engine becomes a popular place to search for local restaurants

Boulder, Colorado-September 22, 2009- The Boulder Restaurant Channel and Search Engine is an online resource used to find A to Z listings of all Boulder Colorado restaurants. A compressive list of restaurant categories to choose from including Sushi, 2 for 1 deals, family, 29th street retail district, best restaurants, Asian, Mexican, Italian, Happy Hour, Fine Dining, and many more. Many restaurants have customized videos produced by Boulder Channel One that display the food and atmosphere of the restaurant.

According to CEO Jann Scott, “ The ability for people to watch the videos before visiting a specific restaurant is very popular. People from around Boulder use the search engine to plan their night out in Boulder. Boulder Restaurant Channel and Search Engine is easy to operate, it takes two minutes to find a restaurant. Often times two people will talk over the phone and decide to go out. One of them will come to our search engine and scroll through the categories and find, let’s say Sushi, and look at the menu, see the food. After that they will go to the ‘dinner and a movie section’ to find a move for after dinner. Then to see how the weather will turn out they can go to the weather section and see how the Boulder night will turn out.”

The Boulder Restaurant Channel and Search Engine also combines the ability to check up to the minute movie listings to plan a perfectly choreographed night out in Boulder including the local weather. Each listing includes related the options to redeem coupons and whether or not the restaurant delivers. The ability to reserve seating online or order from your office is available at The Boulder Restaurant Channel and Search Engine.

“Since every listing is up to date and verified nobody will ever call or show up to a restaurant and find that they are closed or have even moved, we update our fully comprehensive database daily and are adding new content all the time. We have specialized advertising packages that some of the restaurants choose to participate in. We use this proven financial revenue model in The Boulder Restaurant Channel and Search Engine. It’s what is popular in Boulder and we are continuing to run strong.” Said Scott

About Channel One Networks:
